CHAIN stores are here, the chains growing bigger and the little retailers complaining that they are getting HEAVIER. They have the buying power, the selling power, hiring power. To compete with them, small other chains, longer, heavier.

James A. Hearn & Son of Fourteenth st. and Fifth av., New York, dry goods firm more than a hundred years old, plans a chain of 15 department stores. Clarkson Covel, one of New York's ablest merchants, will know how to make it go.

Other great department stores have adopted the chain idea. Marshall Field reached out to Seattle, started branch stores in Chicago, and is considering Cleveland. Gimbel Brothers have long since been established in many cities. Macy & Co. of New York have in Atlanta, Newark and Toledo powerful branch establishments and, it is said, are considering branch stores in New York's boroughs outside of Manhattan. Bullock's have established their first branch store in Los Angeles.

THE London Times wants President Hoover to defy the United States senate, go ahead and make a treaty limiting our navy and binding the United States to go over and help in case France should have trouble. The London Times is sure that the American people will support President Hoover in such action that he might take.

The American people are fond of Mr. Hoover, have great confidence in him.

The London Times is mistaken if it thinks the United States will support the idea that foreign nations should regulate our national defense or the more preposterous suggestion that Americans be sent across the ocean and billions spent again in case another fight started in Europe, and the Times underestimates President Hoover's common sense — the only American president it ever met was Wilson.

FRANK McERLANE, "the tough cop," shot three times by gangsters as he lay wounded on a hospital cot in Chicago, is home at his mother's now, full of war.

Never mind who shot me," he tells the police, "McErlane takes care of McErlane. Remember THAT the next time you find some rat dead in a ditch, like a sieve." "Like a sieve" means with many bullet holes.

Lots of energy and gameness going to waste in our gunmen. The police say McErlane is the inventor of "the die" from which a man marked and "put on the spot" never returns.

THE REV. JOHN A. RYAN, professor of sociology at the Catholic university, tells the house judiciary committee that President Hoover's request that citizens discourage violation of the Volstead law is a sample of the "muddle-headed thinking" that prohibition has imposed on leaders of thought.

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia college, demands a repeal of the prohibition amendment.

Demanding is one thing, getting is another. What states would vote for repeal?

Thirty-six states are needed to take prohibition out of the Constitution. Barring a revolution, which we shall not have, Dr. Butler's great-great-great-grandchildren will be gray.

George Putnam, Head of Printing Company, Dies

Mr. Putnam was a Civil war veteran, having risen from the rank of private to that of major in the 176th New York Volunteers.

Taft's Death Seen as Matter of Hours

NO HOPE HELD FOR RECOVERY, PHYSICIANS SAY

Former President Suffers Sinking Spell and Doctors Are Summoned

CAPITAL IN SORROW

President Hoover Cancels Reception Scheduled at White House

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—(AP)—Broken by weeks of illness, William Howard Taft had lost so much ground in his fight for life today that his physicians said there remained no hope for his recovery.

Confirming for the first time the fears of the family and friends of the former president and chief justice, Dr. Francis R. Hagner said after a morning call that it now was a question of days, and perhaps only of hours.

"Mr. Taft is in a critical condition," said the physician. "There is no hope of his recovery. Any improvement will only be temporary."

Hopeless Battle

A general breakdown had followed upon the combined inroads of the several ailments which early in February forced Mr. Taft to resign as chief justice, and since have kept him in bed under the anxious eyes of family and physicians.

All along the battle has been a losing one. He has almost held his own for short periods; sometimes there were signs which gave his attendants some slight hope, although their official bulletins never reflected a confidence in his recovery.

His active life, the exertions and vicissitudes of which kept him a national figure for a generation, had levied heavily on his reserve strength, and left him with less than the normal fighting power of a man of his age. He was 72 last September.

Cancel Reception

News of his condition today spread sadness throughout Washington. Immediately after Dr. Hagner's bulletin was received at the White House, President and Mrs. Hoover cancelled the reception, which was to have been held tonight for members of the house.

"In view of the physicians' statement as to the critical condition of the former president of the United States, Mr. Taft," said the White House statement, "President and Mrs. Hoover have regretfully cancelled

JUDGE MARTIN GETS EXTENSION IN OFFICE

Will Not Be Candidate This Year as Result of Official Ruling

One contest was definitely removed from the 1930 election today when it was learned that Municipal Judge William R. Martin will hold office until Jan. 1, 1932, according to a ruling of the attorney general, issued to Prosecuting Attorney Alfred Donithen.

Apprised of the ruling this morning, Judge Martin stated that his petition, which now bears the required number of signatures to make him nominee in the fall election, should the attorney general have ruled otherwise, will not be filed.

Petitions of three other prospective candidates for the municipal judgeship were also definitely ruled from the field this year by the attorney general's opinion.

The judge was elected in 1926 for a four-year term, under a law which requires that he shall hold office until a successor is elected and qualified. The new state law provides that the municipal judge is one of a number of officials who are to be elected in odd-numbered years.

Construing the two acts jointly, the attorney general held that despite the fact that Martin's term as originally set expires this year, the judge must hold over until his successor is elected in 1931, according to press dispatches from Columbus today.

Finds Education on Radio Faces Handicap

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—(AP)—Secretary Wilbur's advisory committee on radio education has found that one of the chief objections to microphonic instruction is that "educational broadcasts, sandwiched in between sales talks on cigarets and lip sticks, need to be so sugar-coated they lose most of their educational value."

The committee, composed of educators, radio officials and prominent broadcasters, has been given the task of evolving methods for the promotion of educational broadcasting to schools and class rooms throughout the country.

HOOVER SCHOOL

A group of mountain children from the Blue Ridge region, of Virginia, walking outside the little frame schoolhouse which was built for them by President and Mrs. Hoover, for the opening session. Twenty children, all of whom walked anywhere from four to six miles, were on hand for the opening of the school, which was the first they had ever seen. The teacher, Miss Christine Vest, who was appointed by the Hoovers, is herself a mountain girl and a graduate of Berea College, in Kentucky.

LIED TO GET SLEEP, HANNAH'S NEW STORY

Grilling Resumed with Man Denying Any Knowledge of Horst Case

WOOSTER, Feb. 27—(AP)—Charles Hannah today had a new repudiation of his stories involving him in the disappearance of four-year-old Melvin Horst and an explanation for his six different "confessions" to killing the boy.

Hannah, once more besieged by Wayne county authorities to tell them the true story, if he knows, of what happened to Melvin, said he had to tell lies to satisfy officials and get some sleep.

He said that when he "made up a story that seemed to be what they wanted, I got to go to bed." Then when he rested up, he repudiated his accounts "because I didn't have anything to do with Melvin Horst's disappearance."

Questioning of Hannah was resumed last night, following his arraignment on child stealing charges to avoid the chance that he might be released through habeas corpus proceedings. He pleaded not guilty and was held to the grand jury, which meets Monday, under $10,000 bond.

HUNT FOR PLANE

Horsemen Search Foothills of Mountain for Missing Fliers

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27—(AP)—Search for a Western Air Express transport plane and its crew of three, missing since Sunday, centered today in the San Bernardino mountains and the southern reaches of the Mohave desert.

Twelve horsemen at Victorville, Calif., were assigned to scour the foothills for trace of a plane reported to have been heard Sunday afternoon as far west as Lake Arrowhead. Western Air Express officials said they had been informed that a large ship, believed to be the missing one piloted by James E. Doles and Albert W. Bieber, with Steward John W. Slaton aboard, circled the Lake Arrowhead region apparently looking for a place to land.

BURNS FATAL TO WOMAN

ALLIANCE, Feb. 27—(AP)—Mrs. Carrie Reichart, 45, died today from burns received when her clothing ignited from a cigaret. Richard Reichart, the woman's husband, found her in the bathtub when he returned from the store last night. She apparently had jumped in the tub to extinguish the flames. She was rushed to the City hospital where she died.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

SECRETARY'S WIFE ILL

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Mrs. Lawrence Richey, wife of one of the president's secretaries, is seriously ill of meningitis. She was stricken shortly after her return from Long Key, Fla., where she was a member of President Hoover's fishing party. Until today physicians had not diagnosed her illness but it was decided that she was suffering from secondary meningitis.

STATE DRY CONTROL URGED BY DU PONT

Eastern Manufacturer Would Repeal Eighteenth Amendment

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—(AP)—Attorney General Mitchell today voiced disapproval of an effort to make more drastic the law allowing search of private dwellings in liquor cases.

* * *

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—(AP)—Repeal of the eighteenth amendment and establishment of state control commissions composed of Anti-Saloon League members, ministers and "our best citizens" was suggested today at the house judiciary committee's prohibition hearing by Pierre S. Du Pont, the Delaware capitalist as a means of putting liquor control "in good hands" rather than in the hands of criminals.

Du Pont, a power in the financial world and chairman of the board of E. I. Du Pont De Memours & Co., expressed doubt if the dry statute had added to prosperity and said the only solution of the liquor problem lay in the best people of the nation directing their attention to it.

He said it was questionable whether the Volstead act could be "honestly amended to satisfy the American people," and asserted "by all means we should do nothing that requires a dishonest purpose."

He argued that state commissions, somewhat on the order of state railroad commissions, might prove a means of placing liquor under satisfactory control.

In this way, he continued, states could control liquor to meet their respective needs.

Du Pont was the first witness at the concluding session of the six days hearing allotted to opponents of prohibition. The friends of the dry law still have to be heard.

MARION JOINS CAMPAIGN FOR CANAL ROUTE

Great Lakes-Ohio River Waterway May Pass Through County

MEETING IS CALLED

Organization Planned To Back Project; One Rival Route in Contest

The campaign to bring the proposed Great Lakes-Ohio River freight canal through Central Ohio rather than from Ashtabula to Pittsburgh moved into Marion today with the visit of V. H. Talbott, a representative of the Portsmouth Chamber of Commerce.

If the western route is adopted by the federal government it will extend from Sandusky to Portsmouth, thus connecting the Great Lakes and the Ohio river and providing a direct water route from the lake region to the Gulf of Mexico.

Backers of the Sandusky-Portsmouth route propose to utilize the Scioto river, emptying into the Ohio river at Portsmouth, and the Sandusky river which empties into Lake Erie at Sandusky. The canal program would include widening, straightening and deepening of the two streams and construction of a 10-mile connecting link between the two rivers.

The connecting link would lie wholly in Marion and Wyandot counties and would cross the Ohio watershed which lies a few miles north of Marion.

The Pittsburgh-Ashtabula and the Sandusky-Portsmouth routes are the only ones now under consideration by federal government engineers, Talbott stated today. A hearing on the proposed waterway was held in Washington on Feb. 4, before engineers in charge of harbors and rivers. Another hearing will be held in about four months, Talbott said. At the second hearing backers of the Sandusky-Portsmouth route will file a report on the estimated tonnage

CLUES TO BOMBING SOUGHT BY POLICE

Assemble Bits of Information in Search for Sansotta Assailants

Police officers today were piecing together stray bits of information surrounding the mysterious bombing early Wednesday morning of the home of Joseph A. M. Sansotta, 395 North Greenwood st.

No new clues which might lead to the identification of the assailants of the Sansotta home had been unearthed this morning.

Police were undecided as to whether the bomb was hurled through the front window of the Sansotta home by a local assailant, or by enemies from another city. No evidence had been found to lend weight to the theory advanced by Sansotta that the bomb had been meant for another house.

Meanwhile repair work is being done at the Sansotta residence. The plastering and woodwork in one room and in part of an adjoining room were virtually destroyed by the bomb, which was filled with heavy roofing tacks, screws, nuts and odd pieces of iron.

All the windows in rooms on the first floor of the house, which were shattered by the explosion, have been replaced.

No official estimate of the damage has been made by Sansotta.

Tardieu and Poincare To Form New Cabinet

PARIS, Feb. 27—(AP)—Andre Tardieu, aided by the veteran Raymond Poincare, resumed today his efforts to form a new French government to replace the ministry defeated on a trivial budgetary item Monday of last week.

There was every indication the task would be one of the most difficult M. Tardieu has ever faced, with the lines drawn so clearly between left and right that collaboration of the left with him will be very hard, if not impossible, to attain.

City Terrified as Two Desperadoes Run Wild

CINCINNATI, Feb. 27—(INS)—Striking swiftly and in various parts of the city, two negro desperadoes, who have been terrifying residents here during the past several weeks, shot and killed another negro who resisted a holdup attempt, committed five other holdups and stole two automobiles here yesterday, according to police, who have instituted an intensive search with orders today to get the negroes "dead or alive."

Says Hub Made Her Wear Glasses To Magnify Food

CHICAGO, Feb. 27—(AP)—The credulity of Judge Harry A. Lewis was taxed by the case of Johnson vs. Johnson, divorce.

Mrs. Helen Grace Johnson testified her husband, Arthur, was a Scotchman; that he refused her permission to use a vacuum cleaner because it was too severe on the rugs; that he bought all the food—very carefully; and that he forced her to wear magnifying glasses at the table so the food would look like more.

"Surely," interposed the court at this point, "there is a limit, you know, to credulity."

"I am under oath," said Mrs. Johnson, "and I swear it."

She said there was one alarm clock for the whole family.

When it rang in the morning she had to rewind and reset it for other members of the family.

No alimony was asked, or offered.

PLEADS FOR STAY

Mrs. James H. Snook (above) appeared before Gov. Myers Y. Cooper today asking that her husband be granted a last minute stay from the sentence that after midnight tonight will result in his execution at Ohio State penitentiary. Dr. Snook was sentenced to die for the slaying of Theora Hix, Ohio State coed.

MERCURY HERE ON GRADUAL DECLINE

Colder Tonight, Is Forecast; High Waters Do Serious Damage in State

Marion was subjected to more discomfort at the hands of the weatherman this morning when the temperature took a decided drop and brought a scant fall of snow to this city. Marion, however, was not suffering from damage reported from high waters as were several other sections of the state today.

The official weather outlook here is: "Partly cloudy tonight, colder, increasing cloudiness Friday."

The mercury was within three degrees of the freezing mark here last night. This followed a 27-degree drop from the high mark of 62 degrees yesterday. A year ago the temperature ranged from 57 to 33 degrees.

The Ohio river was creeping upwards along the southern border of the state today, as water from melting snow augmented the high water. A crest of 28 feet was forecast by rivermen at Martins Ferry. At East Liverpool the river passed the 26 foot stage. Flood stage is 35 feet.

Sandusky, along Lake Erie, fell victim to serious damage when a sudden rise in the water threatened hundreds of buildings along the waterfront. Houses on the north shore of Kellys Island were undermined and battered down by breaking waves.

Breakwaters at Rye Beach were damaged, and other sections along the lake reported that huge strips of land were washed away by the rising waters.

Scores of roads throughout the entire state were blockaded by flooding waters. Especially bad conditions were reported around Canton, Alliance, East Liverpool and Wooster.

Nearly 100 telephones were put out of commission in Alliance during the recent hailstorm when lightning struck a high tension wire running to Canton.

DOG DIES ON DUTY

Obeys Master's Command to Get Holdup Man But Is Shot

CHICAGO, Feb. 27—(AP)—Rex, who was Vito Pannarale's collie, died yesterday with a bullet through his body and his teeth in a man's leg.

For five years Pannarale had trained Rex to guard the little shoe shop in which Pannarale has not a living. When two men, one armed, held up the shop yesterday, Pannarale stood with hands upraised and spoke in a low voice to Rex. He spoke in Italian, and it was a command.

The dog leaped. The man with the gun fired and his companion fled. Rex was mortally wounded, but his teeth were clamped in the bandit's leg. Because of the dog, police today held James Thornton on a charge of robbery.

START SURVEY OF INDUSTRIES

C. F. Davison of Marion Named Assistant Supervisor of District

TO FINISH BY APRIL 1

Canvass of Marion Factories To Start When Enumerators Are Approved

Industrial census of the eighth district, with the exception of Marion city and Findlay, is now under way, Frank A. Beery, of Upper Sandusky, supervisor for the district, said today.

Canvass of Marion's industries will be started as soon as federal officials approve the appointment of local enumerators, Mr. Beery said.

Enumeration of distribution and manufacturing among the industries of the district will be completed by April 1, when the general census will be started. Workers for this branch of the federal census are to be appointed within the next few weeks, according to Mr. Beery. The general census is to be completed by May 1.

Mr. Beery today announced the appointment of C. F. Davison, 223 East Washington av., as assistant supervisor. Mr. Davison will assume his duties Monday.

Farmers who wish to facilitate their reports to enumerators in the agriculture census to be taken along with the general census may do so by writing Mr. Beery for sample schedules. These are almost exactly like the regular schedules which they must fill out later and by obtaining the sample blanks farmers will be able to make their reports rapidly, Mr. Beery said.

H. O. Toms, 260 South State st., is one of the workers making the industrial census in Marion county. Dr. H. A. Hoopes, Ludlow, is the other.

Others working on the industrial census in the district are: Morrow county, J. G. Mills, Cardington; Crawford county, J. L. Morrow, Crestline; W. A. Frank, Galion and Ralph O. Perrott, Bucyrus; Wyandot county, Thurston McClure, Carey; John Hill, Nevada, and Ira T. Matteson, Upper Sandusky; Hardin county, J. H. Cessna, Kenton, and John Young, Ada.

FARM BOARD CHECKS OPERATIONS IN GRAIN

Stands Pat on Policy of Furnishing Aid to Cooperative Marketers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—(AP)—Encouraged by a slight improvement in wheat prices, Washington nevertheless kept an anxious eye upon the Chicago board of trade for developments in a situation that is termed serious, but not unsurmountable.

The federal farm board, in the face of sharp protests from independent grain dealers, stood solidly upon its policy of assistance for the cooperatives only and it is understood, have responded with a reminder that the independents still have an opportunity to ally themselves with the cooperative organizations.

The senate was waiting a response from Secretary Hyde to its resolution asking for an opinion as to whether the grain and cotton exchanges should be closed temporarily.

IN FINE SHAPE!

Fireman Used for Model Round—Then Alarm Is Sounded

EVANSTON, Ill., Feb. 27—(AP)—The fire alarm went "ding-ding-ding" yesterday, but Fireman Critt Jarvis did not answer it.

He couldn't. He was bound—hands, arms, legs—and was flat on his back.

His buddies answered the alarm, leaving him that way for half an hour.

They had been using him as a model in the practice of bandaging broken limbs.

DECISION FOLLOWS MEETING

Governor Declares Visit of Slayer's Wife "Very Trying Ordeal"

STRAIGHTFORWARD PLEA

Woman Tells Executive of Slayer's Many "Lovely Qualities"

BULLETIN

COLUMBUS, Feb. 27—(AP)—Governor Cooper late today refused Dr. James H. Snook's application for a stay of execution from the death sentence to be executed tomorrow on the ground that there "had been nothing presented to justify executive clemency."

Attorney E. O. Ricketts of Snook's counsel then made a formal application of clemency and the governor denied it also.

* * *

COLUMBUS, Feb. 27—(AP)—Governor Cooper and the board of clemency with members of the governor's cabinet, late today took under consideration an application of attorneys for Dr. James H. Snook for a stay of execution to permit presentation of the former Ohio State university professor's case to the board of clemency. It was indicated that a decision would be forthcoming soon.

* * *

COLUMBUS, Feb. 27—(AP)—Mrs. Helen Marple Snook, wife of Dr. James H. Snook, who is under sentence to die in the electric chair tomorrow, went into a conference with Governor Cooper at 11:30 o'clock today.

Mrs. Snook slipped into the executive office by a rear door and it was understood that the purpose of her visit was to obtain a stay of execution for her husband.

Mrs. Snook left the governor's office a half hour later. She was accompanied by the Rev. Isaac I. Miller of the King Avenue M. E. church. No announcement was immediately forthcoming from the executive offices.

When newspapermen were admitted to the governor's office, Governor Cooper told them "this has been a very trying ordeal. I don't believe I have anything to say other than that."

It was evident that the governor had been disturbed by Mrs. Snook's plea which he said was presented in a "straightforward" manner.

After the governor became settled he told the newspapermen that Mrs. Snook told him of Dr. Snook's many "lovely qualities as a man and made a very strong plea for him."

The governor said that Mrs. Snook denied there was no premeditation in the killing. He said that Mrs. Snook's plea was made in desperation.

About an hour after her interview with the governor, Mrs. Snook went to death row to visit her condemned husband. She was immediately admitted by guards and was escorted to the cell in which Dr. Snook has spent more than six months.

When Mrs. Snook entered the prison gates she shielded her face with a handkerchief. She did not talk to anyone after asking permission to go to death row.

The end of the trail appeared to be in sight for Dr. Snook.

Reprieve Near End

The last of three reprieves given the former professor of veterinary surgery since he was originally sentenced to be electrocuted last Nov. 29 will expire at midnight tonight. Unless Governor Cooper should act favorably today following a final hearing before him and the state board of clemency, Warden P. E. Thomas of Ohio penitentiary will be empowered to proceed with the electrocution anytime between 12:01 a. m. and 11:59 p. m. tomorrow.

Death sentences are usually carried out at about 8:30 p. m., but everything will be ready in case the warden decides to execute it at the

His noon-day meal was beef stew, hot rolls, butter, whole wheat bread, coffee, and peach pie.

The menu tonight will be frankfurters, gravy, baked potatoes, stewed prunes, bread, tea, and peach pie.

NOBIL'S

Has the laxative in your hom a family doctor approval

MOST of us value our health too much to purposely neglect ourselves when we are warned of constipation by bad breath, feverishness, biliousness, a headache, lack of appetite, or that weak, helpless feeling. The continuation of our trouble is more often due to the things we do rather than the things we leave undone.

Some things people do to help the bowels really weaken these organs. Only a doctor knows what things will cleanse the system without harm. That's why the laxative in your home should have a family doctor's approval.

A wonderful product now known to millions of people as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a family doctor's prescription for sluggish bowels. It never varies from the original prescription which Dr. Cald wrote thousands of times in many years of practice at Mo cello, Illinois. He proved it and reliable for women children; thoroughly effective the most robust men. He sho it actually corrects constipat It is made from fresh herbs other pure ingredients.

Since Dr. Caldwell first mitted his prescription to be up in bottles and sold thro drug stores, it has increa steadily in popularity until to it is the largest selling laxa in the world!

While John Andrew wished that the publicity department guide would find some other place to take him, another of the grinning technicians said, "Still running blank. When Chester bites 'em, they certainly stay bit."

John Andrew hoped viciously that everyone connected with the Consolidated Picture corporation contracted hydrophobia in its most virulent form.

* * *

With Anne across the table from him, John Andrew was lunching on the Consolidated lot. Armstrong himself had suggested that if Mr. Kellogg—business still unknown, and therefore important to the director—wished to speak with Miss Ames, the best time to do it would be during the noon hour, since Kellogg probably was from the main office, and might even be an efficiency expert—production must not be delayed longer than absolutely necessary, and Miss Ames' presence was imperative all afternoon. Anne was still in costume—a silky—although not silk—necklace; her face was coated with the tan of the liquid rouge.

Since John Andrew, holding the menu, said nothing, the girl, eyes on the cloth, asked demurely, "I suppose you drove down from San Francisco? Or . . . is the car in a shop being repaired?"

"Just for that," said John Andrew, "you can try it out yourself tonight."

"I've never driven a foreign car."

"That's why I bought an American one. And if you think it wasn't got speed—"

"They do say the new divers'll go over 60," Anne said.

John Andrew grinned, but only said, "What are you going to eat?"

"Greenhorns always order avocado-and-grapefruit salad," Anne told him. "And graham bread . . . all I host down here is figure-figure-figure . . ."

John Andrew almost said, "Nothing wrong with yours," but, throttling the words, he glanced around and said placidly, "You see a lot of 'em here, don't you?"

While John Andrew gave his order and Anne's to the waitress, a man made up as a mahout swaggered into the room; he was roaring loudly:

"The elephants now go round.
The band begins to play
The boys about the monkey cage
Had better get out of the way" and a dozen men and girls in the cafe called to him loudly, happily. He seemed to know everyone; John Andrew recognized him at once as the screen's famous hideous man; John Andrew remembered a joke which had been current: "Don't step on that spider; it might be Bill Carey." The man's iron mask had split asunder, cracked into smiles which lighted his broad, lined face; he cried back cordialities jovially, glanced around, and, without ceremony, sat down between Anne and John Andrew.

"You're Ames, aren't you?" he said. As John Andrew started to come to his feet, he went on, "Don't get up. You lose your manners as soon as you come to Hollywood. I think there was a gentleman here, but all of our juveniles tried to imitate him, and he died of shame . . . I'm going to have a cornbeef sandwich."

Anne giggled. "Mr. Kellogg isn't an actor—"

"Then he's the only person within a hundred feet who would admit it . . . except me. I'm not. If you don't believe me, ask some director; he'll tell you—any of 'em—that he make me what I am today; and if they're satisfied, I'm not . . . say, Miss Ames, have you ever peeled a potato?"

". . . this is, yes—"

"Any star," said Bill Carey, "who has her picture taken in some kitchen peeling potatoes, ought to be forced to skin a bushel of Spanish onions . . . I want some mustard for my sandwich."

John Andrew began to grin; he decided that he had found in the ugly, likeable man some one who could, and would, rise rapidly to whatever conversation might bring up: "I'm a stranger here," John Andrew said gravely; "and—"

"How d'you like our subdivisions?" Carey asked.

"You take a corner lot, now," said John Andrew—

"Wait a minute," the screen's famous man said, "if you're trying to sell either real estate or insurance, I've got enough of the first, and no company will give me a policy for the second. Now go ahead."

"I was only going to say that this is the first time I've ever been on a motion picture lot, and I haven't enjoyed it very much. You see—"

"Watch Miss Ames this morning?" John Andrew nodded, and waited.

"Well, well, well . . . be sure to make up your lips when you go back on the set, Miss Ames. I thought our brand of paint was fireproof, but I didn't reckon with Chester's kissing." He leaned back and sipped a glass of milk, as if saying to Kellogg: "I guess that wasn' so slow, old man?"

Anne said softly, "Mr. Kellogg made so much noise that we had to do it all over again."

"I didn't see it the second time," John Andrew told Carey. "I didn't hear it, either. I never heard so little in my life as when the film ran . . . er . . . blank.

"So's Chester," the actor said, watching Anne narrowly.

"Thanks," John Andrew grinned.

Stick together all you can," Anne laughed.

"That's the advice I'd like to give both of you," Carey retorted quietly, and, when man and girl flushed, the middle aged actor continued soberly, "I'm a pretty good guesser: I've got to be, to know what I'm supposed to do around here. Do you know, Miss Ames, that this's the day of 16 in the pictures? No wonder we have so much young love off the screen! Look around you: there isn't an actress cast for a lead here who's over 20. Do they know anything about acting? They do not! Do you? You probably don't, but you've got a voice, they tell me, and nobody knows where the 'talkies' are leading us to. So you can slide out of the picture in a couple of years or . . . learn to act. Don't imitate. Act! Be the person you're want to be. Find out when you go through a scene best—the first or second or tenth time, and insist that the director shoot the picture then. We—the actors—think that the directors are too dumb to help us, and that they get their reputation by being leeches and sucking from every one they come in contact with, and the directors think we're . . . just dumb." He glanced at his empty plate, and bawled loudly, "I want a piece of apple pie."

Both Anne and John Andrew were silent until the thick pastry, with a bowl of heavy cream to go with it, was set before the actor; then Anne said, "It isn't real to me, yet. I didn't come up from the ranks, you see—"

"Bosh," the ugly man exploded. "They don't come up from the ranks; they come up by the way of the bedroom . . . I'm surprised at the front office letting you in," to John Andrew. "They've been guarding the silent stages with shotguns, and they don't like men friends of our young actresses coming around anyhow."

John Andrew, grinning, said, I gather I'm a cross between a newspaper writer and a bosom companion of some higher up."

"Are you?"

"Well," John Andrew said, "I got in anyhow."

"He has a way of doing that," Anne slipped in. "You'll find him in the strangest places." She gave John Andrew a corner of an eye, and went on wickedly, "Mr. Kellogg is here on important business. He's down here to make millions."

"Don't try to do it in pictures," said Carey.

For any BABY

We can never be sure just what makes an infant restless, but the remedy can always be the same. Good old Castoria! There's comfort in every drop of this pure vegetable preparation, and not the slightest harm in its frequent use. As often as Baby has a fretful spell, is feverish, or cries and can't sleep, let Castoria soothe and quiet him. Sometimes it's a touch of colic. Sometimes constipation. Or diarrhea—a condition that should always be checked without delay. Just keep Castoria handy, and give it promptly. Relief will follow very promptly; if it doesn't, you should call a physician.

All through babyhood, Castoria should be a mother's standby; and a wise mother does not change to stronger medicines as the child grows older. Castoria is readily obtained at any drugstore, and the genuine easily identified by the Chas. H. Fletcher signature that appears on every wrapper.

Love's Reawakening

A Wife's Triumph Over Jealousy

BY ADELE GARRISON

Noel's Outburst Brings Nearer to Solution Mystery

KATHERINE opened the door of Noel's room at my knock and stepped out into the corridor.

"Humor him," she whispered after she had greeted me aloud. "He's in a state. But Mary must go."

Then she threw a cheery admonition over her shoulder.

"You mustn't keep her long, Noel. She has to leave almost immediately."

I made a mental calculation as I stepped through the doorway. I was all ready to go except my coat and hat, for my emergency bag for an overnight trip is always ready, and I had improved the opportunity to change my outing costume for traveling garb while I was talking to Lillian. Katie would have the lunch put up inside of ten minutes, if indeed it were not already completed. Mary would not take longer than that, while Lillian and Harry, of course, had no preparations to make, having come out only for the day. There had been no time wasted so far, but I must not let Noel delay our starting. Dicky had sent word by Harry that he would stay at the farmhouse while I was gone, so I had no worries on that score, and had but to bid my husband goodbye before stepping into the Underwood car.

Noel, fully dressed, for he had arrived at that stage of convalescence, was sitting by the fire and rose as I entered. I took his outstretched hand and pushed him gently back into his seat.

"No standing on ceremony, dear lad, until you are fully recovered," I told him, drawing up a chair opposite to him. "Now tell me what you wish of me. Mary said you wanted to see me before we left."

He bent forward slightly in his chair, his eyes looking steadily, inquiringly at me.

Noel Demands

"You are taking Mary with you on this trip to the mountains," he said slowly. "Why?"

I debated a second, then told him the exact truth.

"Because Mrs. Bickett, who has nursed you to convalescence, remember, and is in full charge of your case, thinks that it will be best for both you and Mary to be separated from each other for a few days. She says that Mary's presence seems to upset you instead of soothing you, as it did at first, and that, as Mary cannot help seeing that, it is a cruel strain to put upon her. I agree with Mrs. Bickett and am taking Mary with me."

The boy's eyes did not leave my face until I had finished. Then he suddenly put his face in his hands, his elbows on his knees, and I heard a whispered, anguished, "Oh, God!" come from his lips.

I waited until he had lifted his ravaged face again. Then I put out my hand and grasped one of his firmly.

"I don't know what is troubling you, Noel," I said softly, "and I haven't time to talk to you about it. When I come back I want to have a long talk with you and see if we cannot brush some of these cobwebs away.

"Cobwebs!" he ejaculated, and in the word there was infinite astonishment and scorn.

"Nothing more," I reiterated. "I am sure you will agree with me when we have a chance to thresh the thing out fully."

"Not even to you," he began, but I shook my head at him with an indulgent smile.

The Warning

"Listen to me a minute, dear boy," I commanded. "I am sure that I know one reason why you are so upset. You received a letter from your father at the same time that one came to Mary from him."

He started to his feet, his body trembling violently.

"You know that?" he cried. "But destroyed it! You cannot—"

"Know what was in it," I finished. "No, of course not. But I can guess something of its contents, for Mary showed the one she received to me. Shall I tell you what it said?"

His face flushed darkly.

"Did Mary tell you to tell me?" he asked hoarsely.

"Not directly," I answered, "but I know that she is willing you should hear what your father wrote her."

"But I know already," he said. "My father was kind enough to tell me in his letter to me. One hundred thousand dollars he offered her, and her restoration as his protegee with the prospect of being the greatest Vertigen star he has ever launched. That on the one hand. Poverty, failure, on the other, if she refused to give me up. What girl in her senses would hesitate at such a choice? And Mary's strongest characteristic is her ambition."

I rose from my chair, my face stern, although my heart ached for the youth so obsessed by his dread of losing Mary, that he had lost all mental perspective and balance.

"You deserve to lose Mary for misjudging her so," I said. "I ought not to tell you her reaction to that letter, but I'm going to. She would have flung it into your father's face if he had been here. But because of your actions she thinks that your father has poisoned your mind against her and that you cannot bear to have her near you. Only today she told me that if she lost you as seemed probable, she didn't see why she shouldn't consider your father's offer, for there would be nothing else left for her in life. But Noel, please believe this. If Mary goes out of your life, it will be because you send her away."

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Boyhood Adventure

BY JUDD M. LEWIS

THURSDAY morning and kinda coolish but not cold. At least not when I let Jubilee down it wasn't, but when I had done my fires and my cows and was feeding my face, my grandfather said the wind had swung around into the north and the ice in the lake was probly being driven back to our side and that would make the weather colder if nothing worse happened. I told him I thought he said there was going to be a ripsnorter and a tail twister and a belly buster of a storm before Saturday, and he said he did say so, but that a fella can't be sure of such things and he would be glad if nothing happened, but he wouldn't be surprized if something did happen. Feeble had come in and stood listening and she said she would bet my grandfather would make a good tight rope walker because he wouldn't fall in either direction. Then my grandfather said to her, "Don't get funny or I will kiss you," and Feeble said, "You and who else?" and he laughed and said, "Me and Thomas Aristides," and I said, "Not me. Do your own dirty work." Then every one laughed and Feeble stuck out her tongue at me and Youniss looked pleased. Maggie pushed Annabelle Lee's high chair up nearer the table and Annabelle Lee went and put her feet against the side of the table and gave a push and we all looked just in time to see her heels in the air, and then there came a harder squawk than I thought she could give and my mother jumped and hollered, and we all got up, and it wasn't Annabelle Lee that squawked. She had landed on the cat and the cat had squawked. My grandfather said it was a catastrophe and everyone laughed but my ant. My grandfather asted her if she didn't think it was funny, and she said she thought it was so funny that the first time she heard it she kicked the slats out of her cradle, and then my grandfather said the first time he heard that he done the same thing.

I said, "Gee, I am going to get out before something happens." Feeble was standing by the kitchen door when I dashed out, and she put out her foot and I went stumbling down the steps and was going so fast that I went running through the mud on my hands and feet trying to stop myself without falling, but I had to go back in the house and wash the mud off my face after all. She thinks she is smart. We all went down to the lake shore after school and the wind was blowing in off the lake and the ice was piling and crashing up along the shore, and when I got home and was milking the cows my hands almost froze. My grandfather looked 'roud.

Stubborn Coughs Ended by Recipe, Mixed at Home

Here is the famous old recipe which millions of housewives have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up a stubborn, lingering cough. It takes but a moment to prepare, and costs little, but it gives real relief even for those dreaded coughs that follow severe cold epidemics.

From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. Thus you make a full pint of better remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times the cost. It never spoils and tastes so good that even children like it.

Not only does this simple mixture soothe and heal the inflamed throat membranes with surprising ease, but also it is absorbed into the blood, and acts directly upon the bronchial tubes, thus aiding the whole system in throwing off the cough. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm and eases chest soreness in a way that is really astonishing.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of distressing coughs, chest colds, and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Thousands With Poor, Weak Stomachs Now Taking Pepsin in New Liquid Form.

PHARMACISTS PRAISE IT

Stops Acute Kind in Few Minutes—What a Blessing

Here's a delightful elixir with plenty of real pepsin, some Menthol and just enough of several other stomach correctives to make it capable of putting almost any weak, rundown, abused stomach in first class shape—and it tastes like the most palatable nectar.

The men who created this supremely good formula know their business—they don't believe in nasty tasting medicine and the people are with them for Dare's Mentha Pepsin—that's the name — is having a tremendous sale all over the country. They have passed along the word to every druggist in the country that if Dare's Mentha Pepsin doesn't bring serene comfort to any worn-out, run-down, sickly, gassy stomach that the owner of that most important internal organ can have his or her money back.

Stubborn indigestion of years standing is hard to get rid of, but Dare's Mentha Pepsin will do it; one enthusiastic druggist asserts. — It's real pepsin in liquid form—the right way to take pepsin. Bradley's Drug Store always has a big supply on hand.—Adv.

Oklahoma Man Comes To Recover Stolen Auto

N. D. Ware, of Fargo, Okla., was in Marion today to recover his Chevrolet truck which was stolen from him early this month. The truck has been held here by police officers pending Ware's arrival.

The youthful burglars who attempted to rob the Kerr filling station on Kenton av. last week left the truck parked at the station when Kerr frightened them away with revolver fire. A quantity of stolen goods was found on the truck. Ware believes he knows the youths, who disappeared from his home city at the time the truck was stolen. Several stores in Fargo were robbed at the time, and it is believed that the boys loaded their loot on the truck and escaped.

The boys, aged 13 and 15, have not been located.

DOMINICAN REVOLT APPEARS SUCCESSFUL

President Refugee in American Legation, While Vice President Has Quit

SANTO DOMINGO, Feb. 27—(AP)—The revolt of the Dominican insurgents against continuation of the regime of President Horacio Vaequez and Vice President Doctor Jose de Alfonseca seemed today to have succeeded.

The president was a refugee at the American legation. Insurgent troops here are in almost complete control of the city and the remainder of the country. The vice president, Doctor Alfonseca, resigned Monday.

A lone fort held out against the victorious ragged army of 2,000, which invested the city. General Trujillo, chief of the government army, with a small garrison, withstood a bombardment in the Fort Alcza Ozama, and refused to surrender pending negotiations between the administration and the insurgents.

Charles B. Curtis, American minister, acted as intermediary between the government and the rebels, attempting to obtain their agreement to a pact which would insure solution of the situation without bloodshed and without damage to property.

Reiff, Attica, will return to Crawford county this week, according to Prosecutor J. D. Sears, who interviewed the girl yesterday. Just where the girl is and on what date she will return, Prosecutor Sears refused to divulge. He stated she was working and was in the care of a good family. The general belief is that the young woman is in Toledo.

The girl left, according to the prosecutor, because she was going to be arrested, and according to the story, made no attempt to be secretive about her disappearance. She left the Reiff home by the way of the front door while Probation Officer J. E. Myers was waiting to take her in custody and later in the day passed the officer on the street in Bucyrus.

Just when the girl will appear before Probate Judge G. W. Miller, will not be made known according to officials. Prosecutor Sears advised Miss Long to patch up her differences with her family and return to her school work. Although parents of the girl expressed the belief she did not write a letter purported to be from her several weeks ago, the girl told the prosecutor that she did write it, according to the story.

Mother Testifies in Court Her Boy, Only 15, Came Home Drunk; Judge Insists He Take Pledge

CHICAGO, Feb. 27—(AP)—A mother's son stood at the bar of Judge Lupe's court yesterday on a charge of drunkenness.

So young—he was only 15—and so eloquent was Russell Rodgers when he was called forward, that Judge Lupe said there must be a mistake.

"No," said Catherine Rodgers, a widow. "He's my boy, a high school student. He came home drunk. He told me all the boys at school got drunk."

"Russell," said Judge Lupe, "I will release you to the custody of your mother if you will promise me not to drink again before you are 21."

"I promise," said the boy.

Judge Lupe looked over the group of students present as witnesses.

"You have heard the lad make a promise," he said. "You all would do well to do the same."

GARBAGE SERVICE FINANCES THRIVING

$2,000 Balance in Treasury of City Department; New System Successful

The treasury of the city rubbish and garbage department is in a thriving condition, it was indicated this morning when a balance of $2,000 was reported to be on hand.

This is the largest balance ever on hand since the establishment of the service several years ago, although the department has always been practically self-supporting.

A new method of collection from uptown merchants and business men, inaugurated by the new city administration, has proved entirely successful, according to D. J. Harlow, service director.

Instead of the former weekly collection by the service director, who visited all the uptown stores given service each week, bills are mailed out each month with water, gas, and electricity bills, and are paid by the merchants in the same manner as other utility bills.

If the bill is not paid within a required length of time, the service is stopped.

Collections from 110 merchants for the month ending Feb. 15 were nearly 100 percent under the new system, and eliminated the former job of personal collection which took no less than four days a month of the service director's time.

LIVESTOCK GROUP IS OFFERED HELP

Farm Board Would Include Co-operatives in Its Stabilization Program

CHICAGO, Feb. 27—(AP)—The federal government has offered the American livestock grower a chance to participate, like the grain, wool and cotton growers, in the farm board's stabilization program.

James C. Stone, vice chairman of the farm board outlined the proposal to representatives of the 25 livestock cooperatives who attended a meeting for that purpose yesterday. He said organizations could be effected as soon as the plan is ratified by directors of the livestock cooperatives sales associations.

Cooperatives did a total business of $300,000,000 last year, Stone pointed out. Ratification of the proposal is sought from at least two-thirds of the cooperatives.

Under the farm board plan, a $1,000,000 national livestock marketing association would be established to coordinate and control sales, and standardize grades.

Additional financing would be effected through a subsidiary, a national feeder and finance corporation, capitalized at $5,000,000 and able to build its credit to $50,000,000 through regional credit corporations.

STORM DOES $1,000 DAMAGE TO COUNTY

Estimate Made by Surveyor Leavens After Road Survey

The rain storm that struck the southern section of Marion county Tuesday afternoon and night did damage to roads and culverts estimated at $1,000, according to County Surveyor Cecil R. Leavens, who has completed a survey of the storm area.

High water caused by the overflow of Battle Creek at Prospect has subsided, according to reports this morning. The Scioto river, however, is still over its banks at Prospect, necessitating the closing of the Marion-Prospect rd. from Newmans south.

Damage from the heavy rain storm that reached near cloudburst proportions was confined to Claridon, Richland, Pleasant, Waldo and Prospect townships. Several culverts were washed out on the county highway system and roadways were damaged in some instances by washouts, according to Leavens.

Chimney Sweep Held for Three Hours as Firemen Try to Free Him

CHICAGO, Feb. 27—(AP)—William Thorne, a chimney sweep, was stuck in a 150-foot stack for three hours today before firemen could rescue him. He was removed dazed but unhurt.

Dropped down by block and tackle from the top of the stack, Thorne was cleaning at about the third floor. After an hour the sound of his work ceased.

Efforts of his employer, Paul Bresnick, to haul Thorne to the top failed and firemen were called. It was finally necessary to rig a hose roller, balanced on the chimney edge, with firemen hauling from the roof, 20 feet below the chimney top.

BASKETBALL COACH GIVES KIWANIS TALK

H. C. Olson of O. S. U. and Harding Team and Officials Guests at Luncheon

Problems of basketball were touched upon when Coach H. C. Olson, basketball coach of Ohio State university, talked before Kiwanians and the Harding High school basketball team and officials at the regular luncheon of Kiwanis at the Marion club today.

Problem number one, as enumerated by Coach Olson, is stalling. No one, spectator or player, likes a stalling game. Rules should be made to force offensive playing, Coach Olson said.

The center tip, or tipoff, is problem number two, according to Coach Olson. Rotation of the position of center among the players of the team was one suggestion of his to eliminate the "freak" centers, whose height gives them a physical advantage.

Problem number three is officials. Officials, in a game which moves as fast as basketball, are apt to miscall fouls, Crawds low, Coach Olson declared more officials are needed. He said experimental games in which three officials had been used, were better officiated, and predicted three or more officials for basketball in the near future.

SHARKEY AND SCOTT BATTLE TONIGHT

JACK SHARKEY

American Rated Heavy Favorite

BY ALAN GOULD

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 27—(AP)—Today was fight day along the palm-fringed boulevards, with the crowds and chatter, the balmy breezes and the twittering of the ballyhoo birds that flock to the midwinter carnivals of Flatiana.

Behind all the gaiety and the glamor of tropical scenes, those associated with the second annual battle of the palms were hoping for the best but fearing the worst—hoping an eleventh hour rush for the turnstiles would materialize but fearing a financial flop; hoping that Phil Scott, the London fire laddie, would make a gallant fight of it all but fearing that the rough and rugged American, Jack Sharkey, would turn the main event tonight into a one-sided punching bee.

Thirty-six years ago in Jacksonville, Gentleman Jim Corbett, American holder of the world's heavyweight championship, knocked out the pride of England, fiery little Charley Mitchell in three rounds, in a fugitive prize fight that resulted in the arrest of all concerned as law violators.

Tonight, Jack Sharkey enters the ring an overwhelming favorite to repeat Anglo-American boxing history by knocking out Phil Scott in the 15-round feature of an all-star heavyweight card of five bouts. Although there is no chance whatever of a sell-out, the show appeared certain to attract a notable gathering of wealth and fashion, of talent and celebrities to the ringside.

No Title at Stake

No title was at stake but the championship aspirations of the principals were involved for the winner, whether Sharkey or Scott, will be within a stride of a decisive match for the world's heavyweight crown put aside by Gene Tunney a year and a half ago. Only Max Schmeling, the German champion, is considered to stand at present in the path of the survivor. And Max, who is in perfect health in Germany in spite of alarming, ballyhoo inspired reports circulated yesterday that he had been injured, is prepared to meet either Sharkey or Scott in June at New York under the terms of an agreement already reached.

Scott, the pale and apprehensive looking Briton, holds the championship of his homeland, but has yet to demonstrate either that he has a punch or that he has much ring ability beyond that of a fair boxer. Scott has been well conditioned but failed to thrive mentally on American methods.

Sharkey, thoroughly at home, splendidly conditioned and equipped, has displayed every determination to remove the stigma of a somewhat erratic career, and remove all obstacles in his path to the world's championship battle.

Sharkey had been at his worst among rushing, ripping types of fighters like Dempsey, Risko and Heeney. He has been at his best against less aggressive, less powerful punching foes. Experts regard Scott as "made to order" for Sharkey.

Under such circumstances, it has been small wonder that in spite of a supporting card of high calibre, headed by the Victorio Campolo-Johnny Risko semi-final, the masters of the old fashioned ballyhoo have been at their wits ends to stimulate interest in the fight show and gain consequent results at the box office. There has been little or no debate over the final tour, with Sharkey a 3 to 1 favorite.

The advance sale for the fight has been far below expectations. Forecasts depended upon factors of stimulation today but it seemed reasonable to most observers to expect not many many more than 25,000 customers, if that many, and a "gate" not much beyond $200,000. Garden officials stuck to a prediction of $300,000 or more.

The Campolo-Risko affair, regarded as more of a fighting magnet than the main event, promised the most exciting action of the evening, with the Argentina slight favorite to whip his pudgy American opponent because of big advantages in weight and pounds. The first preliminary was scheduled to open the ticcuffs at 8:15 p. m. The semi-final was slated for around 9:15 and the main bout at 10, followed by a 10-round aftermath affair, involving Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia and Pierre Charles of Belgium.

PHIL SCOTT

WRITER SAYS SCOTT IS DOOMED TO LOSE

Says Sharkey Should Win in First Round of Battle at Miami Beach, Fla, Tonight; Britain Is Setup

BY HYPE IGOE

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 27—(INS)—Jack Sharkey will stop Scott in big time. That's my guess with all due respects to anything John Bull's boy has done since he gave up fire fighting for fire eating.

Sharkey can win in one round. I think Scott is made to order for a first round knockout. If Jack fails to nail him that early then I think he will worry the English champion to the floor in about five or six rounds. If he doesn't get him by that time, old Phil is going to amble along for the full distance but Jack will win the decision.

Ordinarily I wouldn't pick Sharkey to stop anybody in short order. He never had been that kind of a fighter and when he has accomplished quick knockouts, he has gone in the ring certain that he could whip his man quickly.

Sharkey isn't a knocker out but he thinks right now that he is hitting harder than he ever has and that all that remains for him to do in the big international is to sock Mister Scott on the whiskers and it will be over.

This is why I think Sharkey will make a quick job of it. He is demon beat on getting the jump on a foe he considers inferior to himself. He is just about the best first-round fighter in the world. If he wasn't he wouldn't have had Jack Dempsey rocking the boat and hanging on to the jagged edge of oblivion in their ball park battle some time back.

Scott, as I have observed him, is mutton for a right-hand punch to the jaw. He is fair prey for left hooks to the body and mark me, Sharkey will begin working on his body with a left right off the reel. The punch that will start Scott going and lower his defense will be a left hook to the body. His guard down, his long chin will be a bulls-eye mark for Sharkey's right. Then will come the coup degrace.

I've watched Scott taking a clouting from little Charley Hahn, a fourth-rate middleweight, down here in training. Hahn has been a sort of clown. The only time I've ever seen Scott smile at all in training was when Hahn brought down the house with his jumping jack leaps at Scott's head and body. Hahn had no difficulty in clipping Scott with lefts and rights. Precious few times did Scott land on him. If Hahn could nail Scott why can't Sharkey? He will.

UPSET IS NEEDED TO HALT PURDUE DRIVE

Hoosier Quintet Just Step Out of Western Conference Title

CHICAGO, Feb. 27—(AP)—It will require a wide open upset to keep Purdue from hanging the 1930 Big Ten basketball championship next to the 1929 football title pennant.

The firm of Murphy and Wooden last night did most of the heavy work giving Purdue a 29 to 16 victory over Northwestern to pound the seventh rivet into its hold on first place—with three games yet to be played. Murphy scored 10 points, while Wooden scored six baskets.

In only one of its remaining three contests does Purdue appear to be in danger of defeat. Minnesota should not be difficult Saturday night, nor should Chicago offer serious opposition a week from Saturday. Only Michigan, today tied with Wisconsin for second place, looms as the team capable of defeating Ward Lambert's machine.

Wisconsin should sneak back into at least temporary possession of second place Saturday night, at the expense of Ohio State. Wisconsin will meet Ohio at Madison.

Minnesota and Indiana will meet on the latter's hardwood, with nothing at stake except the game itself.

Wooster, Muskies Meet in Crucial Cage Battle

BY LATHROP MACK

COLUMBUS, Feb. 27—(AP)—The crucial battle of the Ohio conference basketball campaign occurs tonight in Wooster where Coach Mose Hole's wonder five attempts to repel Muskingum's strong team in the first game ever played between the two institutions.

Wooster has won all of its 10 games this season, nine of them being against Ohio conference foes. Muskingum has won seven out of 10 and ranks third only to Wooster and Akron on their records to date.

If Wooster can hurdle the Muskies, they have only to whip case, Kenyon and Mount Union, three comparatively easy foes, to finish with a perfect season and undisputed supremacy of the conference.

Akron and Baldwin-Wallace, second and fifth in strength in the conference on the basis of their play to-tangle at Akron in the only game of the evening. None of the teams, nor Heidelberg which has five out of seven conference wins has a chance to catch the Woosterites. The only thing between the possibility that Wooster's record may be marred.

No Section Immune

DURING the last thirteen years, records of the U. S. Weather Bureau show that slightly more than 1,400 tornadoes have occurred in the United States, with property loss exceeding $173,000,000 and 3,861 lives lost.

The aggregate loss of lesser windstorms, it is estimated, has doubled the above totals.

No part of this country is immune to tornadoes or great windstorms. Windstorm insurance costs little and protects from every form of such damage.

No More Hemorrhoids

Pile Agony Ended Without Cutting.

Pile sufferers can only get quick, safe and lasting relief by removing the cause—bad blood circulation in the lower bowel. Cutting and salves can't do this—an internal remedy must be used. Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid, a harmless tablet, succeeds the cause it relieves this blood congestion and strengthens the affected parts. Hem-Roid has a wonderful record for quick, safe and lasting relief to Pile sufferers. It will do the same for you or money back. Henney & Cooper and druggists anywhere sell Hem-Roid with this guarantee.—Adv.

Musical Comedy Stars Featured by Columbia in First Radio Appearance

Jack Buchanan and Jessie Matthews To Be Heard in Program

JACK BUCHANAN, star of Charles B. Cochran's London revue, "Wake Up and Dream," and Jessie Matthews, featured in the same production, will make their first radio appearance at 7 o'clock Thursday night over the Columbia network. They will be presented in a special half-hour program, assisted by Freddie Rich and his orchestra.

Mr. Buchanan, one of the outstanding figures on the English musical comedy stage, is a native of Scotland. He began his histrionic career in the chorus of "All the Winners," and in a few years, after having studied assiduously to advance himself, he rose to great heights as a juvenile comedian. Three musical products "Battling Butler," "Sunny," and "That's a Good Girl," utilized his singing, dancing and all-round entertaining abilities prior to his engagement in "Wake Up and Dream." In this country he headed two editions of "Charlot's Revue" thus paving the way for his present success.

Considered a product of the "Cochran Nursery", Jessie Matthews made her stage debut at the age of 12 in the "Music Box Revue" at the Palace Theater, London. After gaining considerable attention as an understudy to Gertrude Lawrence, Miss Matthews scored hits in the "London Pavilion Revue" and "This Year of Grace." American playgoers have seen the young lady, who is equally adept in singing and dancing, in an edition of "Charlot's Revue" and as a feature of one of Earl Carroll's productions.

KONJOLA GIVES SPEEDY RELIEF FROM SUFFERING

New Medicine Proves Again Its Powers in the Most Obstinate of Cases

MRS. KATHERINE BEEHLER

"It is nothing less than astonishing what Konjola did for me", said Mrs. Katherine Beehler, 2081 East 21st Street, Cleveland. "I am sixty years old, and at my age had begun to fear that there was no relief from rheumatism, from which I suffered horribly for years. I was told a dozen times that I had rheumatism in one of its worst forms. Certainly one could not live and endure any more severe aches and pains than I had. My joints were stiff and my limbs were swollen to almost twice their natural size.

"A number of friends begged me to give Konjola a trial, and finally I consented, but with absolutely no hope that Konjola would prove any different from all the other medicines I had tried. I started the treatment eight weeks ago, and today I haven't a sign of rheumatism. What a joy to be free from those terrible pains."

Konjola is sold in Marion at Stump & Sams Pharmacy, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this section.—Adv.

Charged with Laziness

Guilty Simply of Acidity!

That persistent feeling of tiredness—that clouded mind—that lack of dash and fire—that missing punch that decides so many situations in business—are all usually due to an acid system. Excess acid, formed in the stomach as a result of our unnatural eating habits, causes acid-indigestion with gas, sourness and burning and sets up poisonous putrefaction in the gastro-intestinal canal that saps our strength and vitality, taxes our nerves and pulls us down physically and mentally.

Magnesia Oxoids, developed in Germany by a famous, 100-year-old pharmaceutical house, correct acidity in the right way! Upon contact with the acid in the stomach, Magnesia Oxoids generate nascent, or active, oxygen. The "live" oxygen stimulates the alkaline gastric mucus, checks putrefaction in the gastro-intestinal canal and stimulates the activities of the intestinal walls which aids the natural movement of the bowels. All three effects are necessary to the true correction of acidity.

5-Day Acidity Test

To ascertain just how "acid" you are, make this test. Get a package of Magnesia Oxoids from Bradley's Drug Store or any other good druggist. Take two after each meal for five days and see how much better you feel— how much more soundly you sleep and how much more energy you have. If you don't get more than amazing results, return the balance of the Oxoids to the druggist and he will refund the purchase price promptly and in full.—Adv.

New High Prices of Year Reached After Sharp Rally

POOLS FEATURED IN ACTIVITIES OF DAY

Gains of One to Three Points Distributed Over Broad List

BEAR TRADERS IDLE

Gains Follow Strength in Grain Markets; Call Rate Down

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—(AP)—Stock prices rallied sharply again today in response to a further recovery in wheat prices and a lowering of the call money rate from 4½ to four per cent. More than a score issues moved into new high ground for the year. Gains of one to three points were distributed over a fairly broad list, with a sprinkling of issues marked up four to seven points.

Prices headed upward from opening of the market, the rally gathering momentum as trading progressed. Several of the speculative favorites were taken in blocks of 1,000 to 10,000 shares by pools but the public was still rather slow in coming back into the market in large numbers. A few seasoned dividend paying stocks, current yields of which are attractive, were brought by investment interests.

"Bear" traders apparently made no concerted efforts to hammer individual stocks, although brokers reported that some issues showed indications of scale selling on the part of those interests. Kroger Stores dropped 1¾ to a new low for the year at 37¼. Industrial Rayon fell six points, Safeway Stores 2¾, and Johns Manville and Atlantic Gulf & West Indies 1½ each.

* * *

Profit-Taking Halts Curb Climb

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—(AP)—Curb market shares continued to work higher today, although progress was impeded at times by realizing on yesterday's advances. Gains in the more active shares were rather narrow.

Activity was concentrated in the utilities, where American Gas and Utilities Power & Light were notable firm spots. Electric Bond & Share ruled a little higher, despite considerable profit taking. Cleveland Electric Illuminating mounted a few points into new high ground for the year and Public Service of Northern Illinois an infrequently traded issue, soared nearly 40 points to a new high price for 1930.

Oils were generally steady to firm, with Indian Territory rising moderately to the neighborhood of its high for the year.

Investment trusts were generally firm, Lehman Corp., Selected Industries and National Investors selling up a little.

Industrials and specialties were rather quiet. Loew's debenture warrants reached new high ground, in sympathy with strength in the amusement group on the big board, and Fox Theaters was firm.

* * *

Bonds Move Higher in N. Y. Market

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—(AP)—Bonds made further overtures toward improvement today. Early buying in numerous low coupon rails was fairly impressive and this important group, as well as the utilities, presented a distinctly firm appearance.

Today's Review of Yesterday's Grain

CHICAGO, Feb. 27 — The wheat market was extremely nervous yesterday following the giddy action of the previous day and became uncertain over activities of the organizations engaged in administering the Agricultural Marketing act. Prices fluctuated erratically in a higher range, which was due to strength at Liverpool and Winnipeg and further unconfirmed reports of purchases in the futures market by the Stabilization Corporation.

Corn was higher with wheat and on unfavorable weather in the early trade, but later suffered a reaction due, pit observers said, to backspreading transactions. Oats were firm all session, but rye reacted under liquidation after selling higher early.

Wheat Opens Higher

Wheat opened sharply higher on a burst of buying inspired by strong cables, a firm market at Winnipeg and belief that the Stabilization Corporation had been a buyer of wheat the previous day and was possibly purchasing more at the opening. Advances were checked by realizing sales, with the high for the May representing an advance of nearly 10 cents from the previous day's low.

Officials of the organization acting for the farm board were non-committal regarding purchases of the futures by the stabilization corporation. The trade seemed disposed to accept the reports that such purchases had been made, however, and there was further interest in the theory advanced that with the farm board organizations taking wheat at the seaboard there was buying to remove hedges on that stuff.

Coops Change Tactics

A Duluth message said that the cooperative buyers there had notified cooperative shippers to bill their grain direct, hence eliminating commission men from the transaction. At St. Louis notice was given that the cooperatives would not purchase No. 1 and No. 2 red billed after Feb. 24 except from member cooperatives.

Close attention was paid all advices from Washington, and these, while numerous, gave no further details regarding farm board policies. Export trade for Tuesday was finally estimated at 1,000,000 bushels but demand was quiet again yesterday with no figures reported.

Corn was strong in the early trading with activity and firmness of the cash market and unfavorable weather for the movements additional buying influences with the strength in wheat. Later the market suffered under selling which was credited to spreaders who the previous day had been buying corn and selling wheat. The spot corn basis was ½@2c higher, receipts were light, country offerings small and above the market and Eastern demand good with shipping sales

PARLEY HEADS MUST GO AT WORK SLOWLY

No Desire To Present Any Three-Power Agreement on France's Return

LONDON, Feb. 27—(AP)—Pending return of the French delegation to the five power naval conference, America and Japan and America and Great Britain will occupy themselves principally with differences between their governments in which France is least interested.

The American and Japanese delegations, for instance, can proceed further with negotiations for settlement of Japan's claim for a 70 per cent naval Ratio vessel tonnage with the United States, with probability the claim will be settled eventually with a compromise.

Between the United States and Great Britain there still is outstanding the matter of America's claim for the right to build a new superdreadnaught such as the British Rodney as a means of bringing parity with the British navy, a principle already agreed upon.

Any conclusions reached will be tentative, it has been stressed, since there is no desire to present a returning French delegation with a fait accompli in the form of an Anglo-American-Japanese agreement and since it is stated, the goal of the conference remains a five-power treaty, and not a three-power pact.

On the Streets of Marion

WITH STAR STAFF

Record of Bombings

WITH the bombing early Wednesday morning of the home of Joseph A. M. Sansotta, 260 North Greenwood st., fresh in his mind, Police Chief J. W. Thompson today was recalling a series of three bombings in this city three years ago.

These three, which occurred in a short length of time, terrorized the West Side of the city, and did considerable damage. They doubled the number of bombings on record in the city at that time.

None of them resulted in any personal injury, and not one of them did as much damage as the bomb hurled through the window of the Sansotta home Wednesday morning, according to Chief Thompson.

None of these three previous bombs was thrown through a window. All three were thrown on porches, or against the side of the house being bombed.

The last outrage of this nature to precede the Sansotta explosion took place at the home of Frank Nicolosi, at the corner of Waterloo and Center sts., according to Chief Thompson. In this instance, the bomb struck the front porch. The thrower might have intended it to crash through a window into the house itself.

None of the six or seven bombings in the history of the city was quite as damaging as the Sansotta explosion, and none so nearly claimed a life. Mrs. Sansotta descended the stairs, saw the fuse sputtering, and hurried up the stairs to reach the top just as the infernal machine exploded.

Particular Customers

NEW heights of imagination are reached each day by some of the patrons of the city poor relief department.

Numerous requests have been received by the relief commissioner for dress suits for men and spring coats for women. Coats with fur collars are preferred.

Innumerable offers to barter an old coat for a new one are made, although there is never an offer of "boot."

One woman, having secured a grocery order by the grace of the commissioner, asked when the groceries would be delivered, and pouted because she would be obliged to carry the groceries a few blocks.

After detailing a woeful story, and picking a goodly supply of clothes for members of her family, one woman asked for the bundle of clothes to be delivered. "People might know what I was carrying and where I got it," she complained when notified that the delivery service was not functioning.

Another woman called for an "appointment" with the commissioner. "What time are you going to be there? I don't want to have to wait around your office till you get there," she declared.

• • •

Winter Robins

IN the last few weeks there have come to the office of this newspaper several reports from citizens who have seen robins venturing forth into the prematurely warm weather. Nearly all of the reporters wondered whether these were "first robins." According to those well informed there is no such thing as a "first robin" in this clime. It is asserted that there are always some of the more courageous birds that hang around the entire winter. There may be doubt about this, and any way, just where they go and what they do when it gets down about 12 below zero is a mystery.

• • •

"First" List Grows

THIS "First" idea in the spring rouses quite a bit of controversy. Close on the announcement of Roy Gottschall, 216 Summit st., that his snowdrops were blooming several weeks ahead of time, comes word from Miss Christine Rieck, 267 East Center st., that a yellow crocus is blooming in her garden. And a crocus is a later flower than a snowdrop, according to Miss Rieck.

Mrs. L. F. Musgrave, 273 Franconia av., goes in for something appetizing when she is "first" of the season. Last Sunday she had her first dinner of dandelion greens. They were cooked with bacon, and were about the most edible dish in months, she declared.

If these "first" affairs become too numerous, the contestants will have to mark off a ring and have a free-for-all battle on who really was "first" in these spring announcements.

• • •

Farm Supplies in 1849

FARM sales are about the same now that they were 81 years ago, with a few exceptions. Clyde Mitchell, who lives at 124 Walnut st., furnishes proof of this in a newspaper clipping giving a copy of a sale bill printed in 1849, the original of which is in the possession of A. D. McNew, one of his relatives living in Morrow county.

The sale took place in Kentucky and although worded much in the same style that is followed in the modern advertisement, it lists various articles not found in those of today. For example, there are oxen and yokes, sugar troughs, soap kettles, slaves, including two men, two boys, and "two mulatto wenches," fox hounds, scythes and cradles, spinning wheel, and last and probably not least—one 35-gallon barrel of Johnson-Miller whisky, 20 gallons of apple brandy, and a 40-gallon copper still.

"Plenty to drink and eat," was a catch line at the bottom of the bill and the drink possibly didn't mean coffee or tea.

• • •

Thunder's Message

WE have it from George Robertson, of 124 Walnut st., that whoever said warm weather follows winter thunder showers is all wrong. The recent weather trend appears to prove that Mr. Robertson is right, and there are some acquaintances who declare that he is always right when it comes to the weather situation.

Warm after summer thunder storms and cold after those that occur in winter. That's nature's plan, according to Mr. Robertson. Sure enough, the sky bombardment of a few days ago has brought a chilly wave in its wake, and there you are.

• • •

Doubly Watchful

RAILROAD crossing watchmen are doubly efficient these days. They are continually on the edge of the chair, and are always out in the middle of the street to stop traffic minutes ahead of time, and are also very careful to keep out of the way of the traffic which possibly might ignore their signals.

The recent death of Martin Van Buren Whittaker, North State st. crossing watchman for the Big Four railroad, has been responsible for this. Whittaker gave his life in an effort to perform his duty. The accident which cost him his life has made the other watchmen of the city alert to prevent a similar happening.

What Price LAZY APPETITE

"Dear, are you not glad you followed my suggestion when I urged you to try S.S.S. for your lost appetite?"

HAVE you an indifference or loathing for food, or do you really enjoy mealtime?

Fads and fancies come and go. We must be reasonable. You can't afford to wreck your body by "killing" an appetite given you by Nature to nourish your body.

You must really enjoy your meals and assimilate them to restore the waste of the body. Don't expect a strong, sturdy body and a keen mind to carry on if you do not enjoy your food. It just can't be done. Friends, happiness and business success may depend on a keen appetite.

Many thousands have turned to S.S.S. when the appetite signaled danger. It is a time-tested remedy... purely vegetable. Easy to assimilate. Pleasant to take. It will do much to restore the natural appetite. It will not instantly, but, be assured, when taken according to directions will usually bring back your desire to eat and enjoy your food. This you well know is the best step for health. Simply reason out for yourself and you will agree that it is the practical way.

And remember, S.S.S. will help you get your blood-cells back to normal. Then that sluggish let-down feeling and skin troubles will disappear. You should sleep soundly. Firm flesh should take the place of that which was once flabby. You should feel strong. Your nerves become steady.

S.S.S. gives to Nature what it needs in making you feel like yours again. At all drug stores in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is most economical.

You couldn't blame the girl

HANDSOME—sure he was. A man that women liked—at least, at first sight.

But he was a kind of gentleman butterfly: flower to flower.

And now in the very middle of his romantic career he met a girl who held his fancy. He wanted to marry her. But there was some invisible barrier between them.

And she never told him why!

You, yourself, rarely know when you have halitosis (unpleasant breath). That's the insidious thing about it. And even your closest friends won't tell you.

Sometimes, of course, halitosis comes from some deep-seated organic disorder that requires professional advice. But usually—and fortunately—halitosis is only a local condition that yields to the regular use of Listerine as a mouth wash and gargle.

Listerine halts food fermentation in the mouth. And being a powerful deodorant, it destroys all odors, leaving the breath fresh, sweet, and clean. It puts you on the safe and polite side.

Moreover, in using Listerine to combat halitosis, you are quite sure to avoid sore throat and those more serious illnesses that start with throat infections. Because such infections are caused by germs—and Listerine kills germs. Even the stubborn Staphylococcus Aureus (pus) and Bacillus Typhosus (typhoid) germs in counts ranging to 200,000,000 yield to it in 15 seconds.

"SHAPE AND FASHION— such things will remain"
[Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, 1807-1882]

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Women who prize the modern figure with its subtle, seductive curves—men who would keep that trim, proper form, eat healthfully but not immoderately. Banish excessiveness—eliminate abuses. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. When tempted to excess, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain the lithe, youthful, modern figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette a man ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

"It's toasted"

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough.

*Be Moderate! . . . Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

"Good Will" Court Plan of Church in New York

YORK, Feb. 27—(AP)—A ...olely upon the prin... "good will" to achieve results ... a solution of the marital ... difficulties of baffled New ...

The first complainant was a little woman who nervously quoted a wandering husband as saying she meant so much to him he wanted her back in spite of many quarrels over the bobbing of her hair and the kind of clothes she wore.

When she felt the pressure of ... stern questioning, she said her mother-in-law, she either must separate from her husband or the domestic trouble would end her husband but left ... alone.

"What do you want to do, Mrs. N?" asked a judge.

"I want him to come back! And if he won't do that, I want him to pay for my doctor, so I can get well and get a job. I've been just sort of hanging on and trying to keep our home together so his hair and things would be there when he came back."

The judges, deliberating her case after she had been sent from the room decided to attempt to bring her husband to the pool with yours and effect a reconciliation.

Other cases were called. There was Miss Y. who said that "enemies" who feared she would tell police of a speakeasy in the house where she lived, had secured her removal to the psychopathic ward of a hospital, where she had been pronounced suffering from dementia praecox. She said that she now had no legal status ... because she had been declared insane, that she could no longer get work as a professional accompanist and asked that she be advised of a way by which she could be judged sane.

The judges referred her to a psychopathic clinic for examination.

Last came a mechanic, who had been injured in an automobile collision in the garage where he worked. He asked greater compensation than the $18 a week, which he said, he was receiving, on the grounds that he couldn't support a wife and three children on that amount and was now unable to work.

His case was continued for settlement at the next hearing.

FORCED TO PLAY FOR GANGS, ACTORS SAY

Conditions at Chicago Under Investigation by Equity Association

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—(AP)—Actors' Equity announced today that it is conducting a formal investigation of complaints by several Broadway stars that while playing in Chicago recently they were forced to contribute money and free performances for the entertainment of Chicago gangsters.

Instructions have been sent to Frank Dare, Equity representative in Chicago, to look into the matter and report back to the executive council of Equity.

If Mr. Dare finds that complaints made to Frank Gillmore, executive secretary, and other reports of threats against actors by gangsters are true, Equity will take the matter up with the municipal authorities in Chicago.

Equity said today it was not at liberty to give out the names of the stars who have registered complaints with Mr. Gillmore. But the list of those who are reported to have been threatened by Chicago gangsters includes Francine Larrimore, Groucho Marx, Eddie Cantor, Phil Baker, Jack Pearl, and Joe Frisco.

The conditions of last year...and the years before...are no longer those of today!

In Discontinuing Our Popular DOWNSTAIRS STORE We've Improved Our Store decidedly—in a hundred different ways!

THESE first few weeks have demonstrated very conclusively—that the discontinuance of our popuplar Downstairs Store has meant a decided improvement and betterment of our store.

Shoppers express their pleasure every day with the new order of things.

1. For one thing, it has permitted the concentration of ALL merchandise of the same kind—in ONE place, and on ONE floor, a decided saving of time, steps, and patience upon the part of the shopping public!

2. The new arrangement furthermore means larger stocks, fuller assortments, better selections—permitting a careful, right-at-hand comparison of the various qualities and prices, almost without moving a step.

3. In the matter of charging and deliveries—the new arrangement now permits us to extend credit and delivery privileges upon any and all merchandise.

4. And last but not least.....this can all be effected with such decided economy of operation—that we are enabled to sell our merchandise at even lower prices than heretofore.

5. Even greater care and attention will be devoted to the choicest, newest and best of good, inexpensive merchandise—which will be featured at prices fully as low, and very frequently lower than the prices of any and all other stores, whatsoever.

6. The best value-giving of our Downstairs Store of other years will now be eclipsed in our regular upstairs departments.

7. And with it all, we shall continue to feature in full unbroken assortments that finer, quality merchandise for which Uhler-Phillips has ever been famed.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv)

It's Good To Hear Your Voice

Of course you can't see out-of-town friends and relatives whenever you desire, but you can talk to them on the telephone at any time—and that is next best to seeing them.

The cost will be small—wherever you call. For example there are more than 40 points you can call for a quarter or less.

It will give you a thrill to have an out-of-town friend say "it's good to hear your voice."

Nearly $100,000,000 for New Equipment and Other Improvements

EXPENDITURE of $42,000,000 by the Chesapeake and Ohio Lines for additions and betterments to the roadway and structure during 1930 is provided in the budget approved by the Board of Directors.

This is supplemental to the budget announced in this space last month, which provides $42,500,000 for new rolling stock alone—more than 11,000 new locomotives, box cars, gondolas, hopper cars and passenger cars.

All the contemplated improvements will increase the capacity and reduce the operating expenses of our Lines. Some of the projects will not be completed this year, but will require further expenditures in 1931.

The program calls for work on all parts of the system. New tunnels will be built; old tunnels will be enlarged, new tracks laid, passing tracks lengthened, shops expanded, bridges rebuilt and strengthened and greater terminal facilities provided.

Just so long as transportation is our only commodity, and the dependability of that transportation is the real measure of our success, so we must continue to plan and prepare to maintain and guarantee that dependability. The extent to which we perform a service that meets public requirements is the yardstick by which our growth will be determined.

The full resources of our personnel and plant are dedicated to the maintenance of a dependable and efficient service.

President.

A member of the British parliament is urging a commission for the preservation of an undefiled English tongue. It looks a lot like locking the stable door after the thief has made off with the horse.

"Is there a Santa Claus?" Well, so many little ones annually address letters to Santa Clause, Indiana, that a bill has been introduced in congress to raise the pay of the postmaster out there.

It can not be held that the two Chicago butchers convicted of manufacturing and selling bombs showed any prejudice. They offered patrons either that which could be utilized for sustaining life or that which could be used for destroying it.

A Hoosier woman, who has been convicted forty-three times of violation of the prohibition law, is to face trial on another liquor law charge next month. What couldn't be accomplished by persistence such as that in a legitimate channel?

Two deaths more have been linked up with King Tut-ankh-amen's curse, making fourteen in all. The hearse conveying the body of Lord Westbury, the twelfth victim, en route to the cemetery, Tuesday, struck and killed a London youth and the same day the death of a member of the British museum force employed in classifying objects from Tut's tomb was announced. The chain of deaths is remarkable.

Canada Has Her Liquor Problems.

Word comes from Ottawa that the problems presented by the liquor evil will figure largely in the proceedings of the Canadian parliament at is present session and bring out comparatively as much discussion as liquor laws have occasioned in our federal lawmaking bodies.

The Canadian government's intention to offer a bill providing for the refusal of clearances for liquor shipments out of Canada is forecasted, and quite a number of resolutions regarding the manufacture of liquor and the trafficing in it have been offered and more, it is stated, are to follow.

One of these, a resolution for the nationalization of distilleries throughout Canada, although offered by a United Farmer member of the house from Alberta province, is said to have the support of the government. It recites that, whereas all the provinces of Canada save Prince Edward Island have sanctioned government control of the liquor traffic, it is the manifest will of the people of Canada that the liquor traffic should be under government control and that that control will be more effective if the government takes over the manufacture of liquor as well as control of the traffic in it; nationalization of the entire industry being the more desirable by reason of the fact that the high profits derived from the industry have led to violation of Canadian laws as well as to international complications.

One frequently hears and sees in print comment on the satisfactory manner in which the liquor problem is being handled up in Canada. We gather from this Ottawa forecast of the proceedings of the Dominion parliament that the situation there is far from so serene as is being held out down here in the United States. That the Canadian situation is not altogether a happy one is not at all surprising. There can be no satisfactory handling of liquor where liquor abuses obtain, and it is to be seriously questioned if the nationalization of the distilleries up there will afford the relief sought.

$7,000,000 for Farm Sufferers.

Both houses of congress have approved a senate joint resolution appropriating $7,000,000 to provide the secretary of agriculture a fund with which to make loans to farmers of flood, storm and drought areas of certain states for the purchase of seed, feed and fertilizer.

The original resolution applied only to flood-suffering agriculturists in the states of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia, but when it went to the house committee on agriculture, the states of Illinois, Indiana, Minnesota, Montana, New Mexico, North Dakota and Ohio were added, and the measure made to apply to sufferers from storm and drought, as well. Evidently members from those states didn't propose to let the South get away with a good thing like that. And when the resolution came before the house, Missouri and Oklahoma got in on the good thing, the delegations from these states threatening to vote against it unless their political divisions were made beneficiaries as well as the thirteen states previously qualified in the resolution for a grand cash distribution.

Such resolutions are not uncommon, but it has been seldom when such frankness has been displayed by legislators in pressing their demands for recognition of their states.

"Everybody knows the purpose of this bill is to get congressional votes," Representative Charles O'Connor, of Oklahoma, told the house in presenting his amendment to include his state. "But so long as you are cutting the pie, Oklahoma wants its piece."

Representative Charles L. Gifford, of Massachusetts, remarked that if the federal government was going to continue the passing out of "doles" to farmers, he would ask that the department of labor receive an appropriation to make loans to the unemployed of his state, and Representative La Guardia, of New York, fired a few shots into the farm block. But before comment could be offered or other members prepare amendments for the getting of their states within the operation of the resolution, Gilbert N. Haugen, of Iowa, chairman of the agriculture committee, secured consent to shut off debate, and the house voted its approval of the resolution as amended, seventy-four to twenty-five.

Possibly there is call for the proposed relief to sufferers from weather conditions, but, if so, why is it limited to farmers? Are they the only ones who suffer as a result of abnormal weather conditions? Possibly the farming element alone was considered in this matter in line with the present congressional policy of subrogating all other interests to the agricultural, a situation made possible by much the same kind of a combination as that of the radical-Democratic coalition in the senate.

Be the facts what they may, it must be decidedly disconcerting to the American people to read of the adoption of such legislation in the face of charges, uttered from the floor of the house, that the matter up for vote is "pork" legislation for congressional fence-building purposes, and this is especially true when such action comes so close upon the heels of the president's appeal for more economical expenditure of federal funds.

Word comes from New York City to the effect that, should the drys bring that 156-year-old wife-burying Turk to this country to show the beneficent effects of abstinence from liquor, the wets will trot out a number of centenarians so well pickled that they can't die. This wet-or-dry fight is taking on a dime museum aspect.

Death of Cardinal Merry del Val.

The death in Rome, Wednesday, of Cardinal Merry del Val of heart shock following an operation took one who had long been a notable figure in the Roman Catholic church, his cardinalate having come to him in 1903 through appointment by Pope Pius X when he was but thirty-eight.

Though born in London, where his father had been sent on a diplomatic mission, and where his brother, Marquis Alfonso Merry del Val, at present represents King Alfonso as his ambassador, Cardinal Merry del Val was of noble Spanish blood, his family being one of the foremost in Spain.

A man of commanding presence, of high intellect, of great heart, familiar with many languages, who knew the world from residence in England, Austria and Rome and travel in many other lands, he made a notable record as secretary of the Congregation of the Holy Office following the election of Benedict XV to the papal throne. Twice he was the recipient of votes in the College of Cardinals, but failed to receive the necessary two-thirds of the votes to make him the first pope of other than Italian blood.

Pleasing and gracious in manner, Merry del Val won the admiration and esteem of all Americans who made his acquaintance and his death will be mourned sincerely in this country as it is in Rome.

So wheat dropped below the dollar mark despite government buying to maintain prices? It's becoming something of a problem to figure out into what pockets those farm relief millions are streaming.

The London five-power conference may turn out a fizzle, as some news writers have predicted, but it's going to be a job to make the fifteen American girl stenographers who were given an official reception over there believe it.

A London cable says that the British see the United States dropping the fight against naval bases of other nationals in comparative proximity to our seacoasts. Some of our big navy people will probably feel that it may be just as well; that while we are in the surrendering mood we may just as well make a clean sweep of our demands.

As we understand it from reading the Washington papers, the only reason that the arrival of Rudy Vallee and his Connecticut Yankees in the Capital City didn't create a riot was that not enough of the Washington women knew about it. Great shade of Apollo!

Speedy Care in Croup.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

There are some things which always strike terror to the heart of a mother. The very mention of croup seems to paralyze thought—and yet here is a time when intelligent and quick action is needed.

Years ago many physical ailments were not fully understood. Some diseases, which were formerly considered as separate diseases, are now found to be identical. What was one known as old fashioned "membranous croup" is really a mild diphtheria.

Another disease, which used to be known as "false croup" is now called "spasmodic laryngitis."

The larynx is that part of the throat situated between the windpipe and the base of the tongue. The mucous membrane lining of it may become, and does become, highly inflamed in croup.

This dreaded croup attacks a child between the ages of two and five usually. It may begin with what seems like a mild cold, possibly with some fever. At other times, there may be no warning at all, but a sudden attack after a child gets his first sleep at night.

In a sudden attack, a child is awakened gasping for breath. He has a slight, barking cough. This cough is peculiar in that it is metallic sounding, with a sort of ringing noise. The child has the greatest difficulty in getting its breath. The mucous membrane is so swollen that there is scarcely room for a bit or air to get through.

The child becomes feverish, and the pulse is rapid. The difficult breathing usually frightens the child so much that he wants to be taken up and carried.

Heroic measures must be taken to relieve the swelling of the membrane of the throat. The first thing to do is to send for a doctor, and while awaiting his coming, the child should be put into a hot bath at a temperature of about 100 degrees. Be careful not to have the water so hot as to scald the child. Try the heat of the water on your own elbow. The child should be kept in the bath from fifteen to twenty minutes. At the same time, apply cold compresses to its throat.

Sometimes a hot footbath, into which a teaspoonful of mustard has been added, is adequate to draw the blood from the upper part of the body, giving relief to the sufferer.

It is wise to give an emetic in the form of syrup of ipecac, or syrup of squills in order to produce vomiting and relieve the gathering of mucus in the throat.

As this dreaded croup is really a dangerous disease, your doctor is needed because he will know what to do. There is also a treatment known as "intubation," in which a tube is inserted into the throat through the mouth so that the child may breathe.

As croup is diphtheritic, the patient should be isolated.

Editorial Opinion.

THE RED MENACE.

The soviet pressure took advantage of the twelfth anniversary of the founding of the red army to raise the alarm of war. The Moscow newspapers pictured the capitalistic countries of the world as jealous of the soviet union, which they represented as "going full speed ahead toward socialism;" and declared that this jealousy would sooner or later manifest itself in the form of economic pressure or open war. Against the latter they appealed to the nation to be on its guard.

An industrious press controlled by the gang leaders in Moscow ought not to have much difficulty in convincing the rank and file that this pretended menace is real. The soviet's anti-religious campaign especially has brought outspoken protests in many countries, which can be dressed up and made to look like threats of aggression. Whether the men at the head of the soviet union themselves believe that any such danger exists is another question. Quite likely some of them do. They are social fanatics; and fanaticism is fertile soil for all kinds of hallucinations and delusions. One does not have to leave this country to discover that. When gentlemen rise in the senate at Washington and solemnly declare their belief in the most arrant absurdities, we can understand how soviet leaders may be thoroughly convinced that the capitalistic countries are ready to spring on them and wipe off the map this ugly thing they call communism. And if they do believe this, all the greater danger exists that they will employ their delusion to inflame their people. An aggressive war may be made to look like a defensive war, at least to those who wage it. When the soviet leaders talk of the latter they may be thinking of the former.

The capitalistic nations have more to fear from the soviet union than it has to fear from them. Their attitude is tolerant. They don't care for communism for themselves; but if others want to burn their fingers with it, well that's their business. On the other hand the spirit of Moscow is that of fanatical crusaders, working to extend their system among their neighbors by a world-wide revolution of the proletariat. The Moscow gang has long been waging war of incitement and sabotage in every capitalistic country where it has been able to obtain a foothold; and if it now stands in danger of retaliation it is because its persistence in these subversive efforts has amply invited reprisals. The real menace to Europe is the soviet army, which hangs over the continent like a red cloud. One reason why other nations in Europe are so little inclined to disarm is their fear that this cloud will burst and drown them in a sea of blood.—Detroit Free Press.

NOTHING TO FEAR BUT BOTHER.

Senator Wheeler, of Montana, professes to regard as "un-American" the proposal of the United States department of labor that the names of all aliens in the United States be made as much a matter of record as are those of aliens admitted legally to this country since July 1, 1928. He doesn't describe the proposal in this manner, but that is what it amounts to—registration of all aliens, to complete the record made since the government began giving identification cards to all persons entering this country under its laws.

When Wheeler declares alien registration would be oppressive, he is too intense and too sweeping.

If it would be oppressive, then so is automobile registration oppressive; so is answering census questions; so is answering inquiries by an assessor; and so is registration of voters in cities, or babies at birth, or pupils upon school enrollment, or bridegrooms seeking licenses.

It might be a nuisance to registrants who are legally here; but that is all, for such aliens have nothing to fear if they are legally in the United States. And when it comes to nuisances, most Americans, grumble though they may at certain obligations imposed upon them by their government, recognize there are some costs other than financial ones that accompany privileges of citizenship or residence in a community or state or nation that serves itself collectively.

The department of labor wants better facilities for discovering and checking smuggling of aliens. Registration of aliens is proposed with that motive. It ought not to irk a decent dweller in this land of the free to a large extent than most of us realize in our normal way of living.—Minneapolis Journal.

The Rynek at Cracow.

BY TEMPLE MANNING.

In our travels recently we went to Cracow, the old capital of Poland, and there we saw the ramparts and visited the public market in the Rynek, or public square. There is more in the square than the market place, and so we shall visit it further today.

Facing the Rynek stands one of Cracow's most famous monuments, the beautiful church of St. Mary founded in 1222 and rebuilt in the fourteenth century. St. Mary's is a remarkable example of Gothic architecture and is loved by artists and architects all over the world for its beautiful stained glass windows, its gorgeous chapels and its carvings and mural decorations. The towers rise above the church and from one of these every hour the trumpeter of Cracow plays his Heynal.

This trumpet call is one of the most fascinating links with the past that Cracow, or any other city, could boast. In years gone by the trumpeter was stationed there to sound an "All's well" or warn of an attack, and the most famous of all was the trumpeter who, from his lofty perch, continued to encourage the Cracovians during the first Tartar attack. Today's trumpeter is a lineal descendant of that national hero.

Likewise facing the Rynek is the Sukiennice. This is a splendid renaissance building with a huge arcade along the front. The main floor is given over to the National museum, while in stalls along the arcade are sold all manner of things—pots and pans or bright ribbons, luxuries and necessities. The peasants sell their farm produce in the square, then turn and spend a part of their money in the stalls of the Sukiennice. In the old days this building was the meeting-place of the Polish cloth dealers. In the back of the Sukiennice stands a gothic tower, the only relic of the old town hall which was destroyed in 1820.

The Mecca of all Poles is the old royal residence of the king of Poland. This is on a promontory known as the Wawel. Far below winds the Vistula. In addition to the royal palace, the Wawel was the site of a fortress, barracks and a cathedral. The palace was the scene of the old pomp and ceremony of Polish court, while the cathedral was the place where, for years, the Polish kings were crowned and buried. The fortress and barracks saw a sterner life—they withstood the attacks of Tartars and Scandinavians, they saw revolt, and finally fell under the attacks of Prussians and Russians.

Under the fury of attacks, the group of buildings on the Wawel was almost demolished, but not quite. Within recent years a program of restoration has been going on slowly, but steadily, and today one may visit the palace and see hanging on the walls, the rich Flemish and Gobelin tapestries which were made for these rooms so many years ago. Carvings are being restored and the paintings on recessed panels revived.

In the cathedral are gorgeous monumental tombs to many of Poland's most revered monarchs and patriots.

There is the tomb of St. Stanislas, who was murdered at the foot of his altar by "King Boleas the Bold," whom he dared to rebuke. "King Ladislas the Small," also is buried in the church, as is the patriot Sobieski, who is credited with having stopped the Moslem invasion of Europe when it appeared that the Turks were all-powerful.

There are many more places one can visit in Cracow. They are all worth while for this most certainly is a city with a living history.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. McINTYRE.

New York, Feb. 27—Fourteenth street's [illegible] essant hub-bub offers a pleasant slice of Gay Nineties. It is the last stand of vanishing off-key hurdy-gurdy, the one-sidewalk show, the neighborhood ice-cream parlor and the portable pony-drawn merry-go-round.

Vacant store rooms are taken over at intervals to exhibit Lolla-Koola, the "Lobster Boy," the two-headed calf, the half dog-half man and other wistful creatures spawned by a freakish twist of nature. The jug-contortionist and fakir make "pitches" in abandoned doorways.

A waxwork museum, with its collection of shuddery murders and gruesome figures stressing the horrors of social ills, is open day and night, while a clown ballyhoo in front balances a feather on his nose and screeches: "This way, ladies and gents—show's just starting!"

Weaving in and out of the crowds are purveyors in baker's coats and caps, hawking cinnamon buns, roasted potatoes on sticks, apples dipped in sticky syrup and other delicatessen yum-yums. The eternal thrill of the circus is always there—alive and challenging.

Continuous burlesque has a steady patronage. Shoddy imitations of the old Winter Garden runways stretch out over the audience for beefy lady leviathans in tights to strut and wiggle. A green-whiskered comedian with splay feet, imitates Bert Lahr, "Ain't I the hound?" as a snapper.

Ten-cent song books, ice-cream cones and pink lemonade are peddled up and down the aisles. A tipsy gentleman from the front row is enticed upon the stage to Charleston. When the nasal soprano and the crowd roars, the husky-voiced and seedy announcer speaks amid cat calls, next week's attractions.

A chorus, ever out of step, interpolates with half-hearted efforts with undisguised yawns. And at Luchow's, the elite of Fourteenth street gather in the somber and dark-wood haven of other days to feast on heavy German dishes and lift seidels of an attenuated brew.

* * *

On Fourteenth street, too, is the last stand of melodrama. Villians pursue wide-eyed heroines. Paper snow flies in howling storms and the wind shrieks in eerie lament. Long mustached heavies flick riding crops against top boots in gestures of deep-eyed trenchancy. And before the last act the entire company indulge in what old troupers used to call "the walk across"—each player passing before the footlights for cheers or hisses.

* * *

Many little tobacco and stationery shops on Fourteenth street have been untouched by the chain store octopus. They retain their dim-lit, fly-blown halo of other days, and prosper. Many bootleg naughty picture shops, a select clientele and others take twenty-five cent and dollar bets on the races.

* * *

Fourteenth street is the market place for those pornographic monthly magazines filled with nude paintings and photographs. I counted eight periodicals of this sort in the back room of a tobacconist. They are printed "only for artists," but are sold over the counter to all comers an hour after they reach the newsstands. Publication dates vary in order to keep ahead of and throw the agents of laws against obscenity off the track. On the title page of each publication you notice they refuse subscriptions, a frank confession they are likewise refused the mails.

* * *

I sought the address of one of the most flagrant magazine violators. It was plainly printed at its mast head as a building on West Twenty-Third street. Yet the bulletin board in the foyer did not reveal it or had the elevator operator ever heard of such a publishing firm.

* * *

An ironic touch to one of the fleshly publications was a warning on its editorial page: "Newspapers are not permitted to reprint any part of this publication's contents without special permission."

Telegram from the Jersey side: "I have read your column for years and would like to show you through my powder works."

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

Those who criticize the spending of money for foreign missionary work are usually those who know little about missions. They think of a missionary as a sanctimonious, high-coasted, high-hatted person who is bent on making the African native believe something he can not understand. The modern missionary is a leader, a leader who opens the eyes of those who have blindly followed native customs and savage superstitions. Medical missionaries have changed the world for the attitudes of people. The African witch doctor, travelers tell us, is going out of business. The sick native is losing his faith in witchcraft. He wants to consult a physician. He wants to know. Missionaries today are teachers and builders more than they are preachers.

Where is home? A report made by a large religious organization deals with the passing of the American home. Has it passed? It is said the home in most communities has ceased to be the unit of human association. It was once the place where food and clothing were produced. Home was the economic unit. Life began and ended there. There are reasons why the situation has changed. The growth of cities and the crowding of homes into apartments; the migration of women from the home into shops, offices and stores. These things and other things have changed the American home. In thousands of instances they have destroyed it.

But a report of social workers is likely to make things look worse than they are. What is said of the cities is partly true. There are, on the other hand, thousands of small towns and villages in this country where the home has not changed so much. It is, of course, not like the pioneer home, producing food and clothing, but it is still the main gathering place of the family. People even spend evenings in the small town or farm home. The home, for the most part, has not gone out, and will not go out for a long, long time. When it does, what we know as civilization will go with it.

* * *

People who do not make money and have not the ability to make money are frequently those who like to preach that money has little to do with success. It is more interesting to hear from an expert as to what is worth working for in this life. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., whose income tax runs into the millions and whose income is beyond the conception of the average man, says as follows:

"In this money-making age we do well to remind ourselves that after all the real purpose of our existence is not to make a living but to make a life—a worthy, well-rounded and useful life."

These may be taken as the words of an expert.

Many will note with pleasure the move[illegible] of the National Association of Audubon Societies to get golf clubs to build bird houses and do everything possible to attract birds to golf courses and preserve them there. Good idea. Excellent idea. A golf course needs something more than golf to make it attractive.
